Hi Friends,

Happy February!! The year sure has started out on a cold foot...brrrr and I am ready for some warmer weather.

We are back this month with our normal schedule (yay!) and we have a lot of fun things planned for this coming year. I know many of you are wondering what changes will be coming to the store. Rest-assured there will not be drastic changes. We will have the same events, possibly with a little tweaking, we will continue having classes and keeping up on the current paper crafting trends. The biggest change will be Franki's work load. She has worked hard in the store and we are ready to do the heavy lifting so she can get back to her creative roots.

We thank you for your continued support, it means so much to us. We look forward to inspiring your creative needs for years to come.

Hugs, Cari & the Let's Create Team
